Photography and Video Guidelines at the Recital Venue

Patrons and casual visitors may generally capture photography and videography outside of UNF Robynson Theater public spaces —any area accessible to the public without a ticket, subject to the limitations and guidelines below — for River City Dance Project & Alius Dance School Production.

Unless otherwise stated, parents/visitors may take photos and videos within the theater public spaces except the auditorium of prior to and following performances.

“Casual visitor photography” is accomplished with a single hand-held camera. Cameras must be self-contained, may not draw on Theater power sources, and must be operated by a single individual without use of ancillary equipment, such as a tripod or external lights.

Pedestrian traffic or hallways may not be blocked at any point.

Activities prohibited under the “casual visitor photography” policy include:

- Photography and videography during performances, except for the contracted professional photographer and videographer for this event.
- Photography that requires professional equipment or any equipment beyond a hand-held camera, such as lenses of 5” or greater, ladders, tripods, and other ancillaries.
- Commercial and media photography, which requires prior written approval from Alius Dance School & River City Dance Project.
- Photography that may attract a crowd or may otherwise materially interfere with other patrons’ enjoyment of the public spaces.
- Photography that includes groups of more than 10 people.
- Furniture, ropes and stanchions, and other Theater or Company property may not be moved to accommodate photography, nor may they be used as props.

Thank you for your cooperation.
